

CBI
Ministry of Foreign Affairs

Exporting fresh pomelo to Europe

Pomelos are imported via the same ports in Europe as other fruit, most notably via ports in the Netherlands. Fresh pomelos are a niche market in most European markets. Eastern and Central Europe has a steady demand for fresh pomelos, while opportunities in Western Europe could be created through active promotion and providing excellent taste. Changing market conditions in large production countries such as China offer opportunities for new suppliers of pomelos.